PATRIOTISM AND THE FOURTH.

The fact that Honoldic has not prepared any set program for the role in this expression of his feelings by the Chance population. But this wild be of whatever tree and birth, have the right to honor in their Lenits those inco men of a hundred and thirty-four years ago who went forth to battle for the independence that is now ours.

SECRETARY DICKINSON

In extending an aloka to Secretary Diskinson, who is due to arrive here this morning thorolds regrets as much as will the secretary himself by tometrow morning that be can not spend a month in Hawaii instead of only one day. Honolulu will hardly have time in the shorter period to get arquainted with the head of the war department; the secretary certainly will not have time to get pequainted with Handhin.

But the program hald out for him will give him an apportunity to see a good deal, even if that is but a small proportion of all that it could be wished done in the way of fortifying Oahn, but an ocular demonstration, it is to be hoped, will give him a personal interest in the island, an interest that will draw him back here as nearly all Hawali's visitors are drawn back sooner or later. But if Honolulu can't have Mr. Dickinson for a month, the city is glad to welcome him for a day and to say to him on arrival and departure

The baseball grandstand manager who, paffed up with a little brief anthority, vesterbay afternoon ejected a reporter from the press box, ordering him out in an insulting manner, would probably be around with tears in his voice about this afternoon if no account of the game appeared in the morning paper; Wiser baseball men realize that the newspaper accounts of the games are the best advertising they can get and as a rule they treat accordingly the men who do the work of reporting. A little more sense and a little less pumposity would seem to be what that grandstand manager badly needs.

A nigger pug and a white ping ngly will stand up at Rene, Nevada, today and pound one another in honor of the anniversary of Independence Day. Incidents by, each of them will make more money is about an hour than most of us get a chance to earn in a lifetime. No wonder we can look back with wondering contempt on the barbarous days of antiquity.

Independence Day.

The past held men in chains. Priests, stages, kings Read from the seroll of time dead, useless things, knws, forms, beliefs by which life's lords of old. Were still earth's tyrants from their crambling mold. Then in the Quaker City where men beard Each in his heart its own inviolate word. There grew the will be put the old uside. To first the future, suck the dark untried. Blaze courtless jettlis for countless human feet. Mairing a world of wonders strange and sweet, Throng), these long ages when their lips were domin I'll awards whose flushings were the fear of slaves. We say the rais and new, Before as waves The future like a borner. To our eyes Harti Is a rolling glory of marine,
